CONTRIBUTIONS FOR THE STARVING IRISH.

Ways and Means Committee in Session—Factory Burned—Other Late Telegrams.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The announcement of the donation to Ireland from Baroness Burdett Courts was exaggerated. Only five thousand were given with the promise of other beneficial aids of relief when necessary.

RICHMOND'S DONATION.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 12.—The Irish Relief Society has collected $5,588 which will be sent to Most Rev. Archbishop McCabe and Most Rev. Archbishop French, of Dublin to be distributed without regard to creed.

Ways and Means Committee in Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The House Committee on Ways and Means took up the refunding question this morning for the final action of the first rate taken was upon the rate of interest. This was decided in favor of three and a half per cent. by a vote of eleven to two. The question of time was settled by a decisive vote of twelve to one in favor of a $20,40 bond interest on these bonds is to be paid quarterly and they are to be used in funding fives and sixes amounting to about $500,000,000. The committee decided also to recommend that authority be given to the Secretary and the Treasurer to issue two hundred million dollars of four per cent. treasury notes, redeemable at pleasure to assist in the reduction of the annual interest burden in the manner proposed by representative Kelly.

Factory Burned.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 12.—The Lehman factory burned yesterday was insured in the Capital City Insurance Company of Montgomery, Ala., for five thousand dollars the Home Protection of Alabama for twenty-five hundred; the Georgia Home for two thousand, and in the Northern and Foreign Companies for about fifty thousand dollars.

The Gordon-Stephens Difficulty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The New York Times this morning publishes a private correspondence between Senator Gordon and Representative Stephens with reference to a personal misunderstanding which arose between them at a recent meeting of the Senate Caucus Committee. The letters, it is understood, were furnished to the Times by Representative Stephens, Senator Gordon having refused to give them to the press on the ground that they related to a purely private matter. Mr. Gordon, in his letter, expresses regret that under extreme provocation he used harsh and angry words to Mr. Stephens, but says the latter had done him great injustice, both in private conversations and in statements made before the Committee that he (Gordon) favored ex-Marshal Smyth for the office of Supervisor in the First Census District of Georgia. Mr. Stephens, in reply, accepts Mr. Gordon's apology, but refuses to admit that there was any provocation on his part for Mr. Gordon's words. He says he meant nothing offensive to Gen. Gordon in repeating what he had heard about the latter's favoring the appointment of Major Smyth. The only object of his remark before the Committee was to show that the objectionable words in Mr. Simmons' letter of application were taken in their proper connection, and were not subject to the construction which Gen. Gordon placed upon them.

Will Use it All Up Themselves.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—The House committee on Education and Labor decided to-day to report adversely upon Representative Thompson's bill, providing for a distribution of the fund from the unclaimed pay and bounty of the colored soldiers for the education of the colored race. This action is based upon information furnished the committee that the fund barely amounts to two hundred thousand dollars, and is being constantly drawn on by the claimants.

Changed His Faith.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—A London special to the Herald states, on the authority of private dispatches from Rome, that no doubt whatever remains of the reception of Rev. Arthur Wagner, a Brighton ritualist, into the Church of Rome. Mr. Wagner's conversion, it is said, marks the beginning of a long, impending and carefully prepared movement, which may ere long bring most of the Ritualistic Anglican clergy over to Rome in Catholicism.

What a War Costs.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—An official statement shows that the expenses and loss of the resources of France arising from the Franco-German war were 13,939,000,000 francs.

Foreign Flashes.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—A Paris dispatch says: "The Soir announces that General Deburg, commander of the Sixteenth Brigade of German Infantry, has been appointed chief of staff to the fifteenth army corps stationed at Starsburg, and adds the foregoing is very significant as General Deburg is intimately acquainted with the French army.

Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Geo. Fay to be Collector of Customs at Cherry Stone, Va.; John L. Reed to be postmaster at Huntsville, Ala.; and Henry O'Maher to be postmaster at Donaldsonville, Ga.

A Scene in the Mormon Temple.

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 10.—John Taylor, President of the Saints, officiated yesterday at the funeral of a wealthy young man named Cain, who had been an apostate from the Mormon Church, but whose mother and sister are members in good standing. Taylor, after some appropriate remarks, said: "Was he a Saint? No. He was once a Saint, but he departed from the church; he left the faith. Did he die a Saint? No; he died a drunkard and will fill a drunkard's grave. He has gone to hell, and there is where he deserved to go."

The mother, with a wild shriek, exclaimed: "My God! My God! My only son, and to think his only fault should thus be made public!" The mother and sister of young Cain both fainted, and were carried home. Great excitement prevailed.

Dark-Horse Conkling.

A Republican leader at Albany, and a close friend of Senator Conkling, asserts that Gen. Grant will attend the Chicago National Convention in person, and after receiving a complimentary vote withdraw from the campaign and ask all his friends to join in the support of Conkling.

THE DISTRESS IN IRELAND.

A Review of the Situation from Dublin at the End of a Week.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—A dispatch to the Times from Dublin says: The past week added but little to the evidences of extreme distress, while it has largely augmented the resources of the relief committees and provisions of the Government for meeting the crisis. The beneficial effect of the grants of the relief committees is to be seen in the quieter tone of the press and the cessation of the cry of alarm heard a month or two ago. There are still deplorable accounts from some districts, but there is generally a more hopeful spirit among the people. Though there is still great cause for anxiety and for vigilant attention to signs of suffering which may appear in unexpected quarters, the extent to which land owners have embraced the opportunity of obtaining loans on easy terms is sufficient proof that the supposed barrier of red tape has not been thought insurmountable. During the past week the number of new applications reached 200, and the amount applied for was £111,000, which, added to the previous total amount of £265,000, makes an aggregate of £376,000 since the 22d of November.

The first issue of one-fifth of the amount applied for has been made to many applicants, and in cases where the Board of Public Works are satisfied with the security they send a circular in advance to borrowers, enabling them to anticipate the issue. It will be satisfactory to the public also to know that the Board take care that the laborers employed are paid in cash, and that the amount of the first issue has been expended in substantial work of equivalent value before they give the second installment.

Mr. Charles S. Parnell's attacks on the relief committees are condemned even by some of his most ardent admirers. The Irishman (newspaper) strongly deprecates his language about the Mansion House fund.

How Gen. Sherman Tried to Influence Legislation.

Emory Speer of Georgia will rise to a personal explanation in the House, to make some severe comments upon Gen. Sherman. Some time ago Mr. Speer introduced a bill to prevent military bands from playing on Sunday. The bill was reported favorably by the House Committee on Military Affairs. Gen. Sherman thereupon wrote Mr. Speer a very caustic letter, in which he said that he would remove the troops and band from the garrison at Atlanta if the bill was pressed to a passage. The fact that this letter had been written, Mr. Speer claims, was made known through Gen. Sherman to the people of Atlanta, who immediately began using their best efforts to stop the passage of the bill. Under the law Mr. Speer claims that no officer of the army is permitted to influence legislation except through the Secretary of War. Therefore, Gen. Sherman's conduct deserves a reprimand.

JOHNNIE REB.

Conkling Repudiates Moulton.

Senator Conkling, in answer to a question whether the Sherman-Moulton letter in any way represents his sentiments, is quoted as saying: "I do not know Mr. Moulton, and have had no conversation with either him or Mr. Sherman. There is no one in New York authorized to speak for me. A great deal of canarding is being done just now in order to injure Gen. Grant, but I do not think it will succeed. If they can make people believe that I am not for Grant, and for any one else, they may succeed in making it appear that nobody is for him."

Senator Gordon Apologizes.

WASHINGTON, February 11. — The scene in the Senate census committee room the other day is growing in importance chiefly through the efforts of Mr Stephens, who has written his version of the story to the Atlanta Constitution. Senator Gordon was taunted into using angry words by Mr. Stephens, but yesterday he wrote a letter of apology regretting that he had been tempted to speak angrily to a man of such great age and with whom he had always had such friendly relations. The charge that Gordon intended to threaten Stephens with bodily chastisement is too absurd to require an answer.

Railroad Collision and Loss of Life.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 12.—An extra freight train on the Mississippi & Tennessee Railroad, which left here at midnight, collided with the bridge train coming north, near Courtland, Miss., and Conductor Gibson, of the bridge train, was killed. The engines of both trains and several freight cars were badly damaged. There were no other casualties.

New York for Blaine.

Z. L. White in New York Tribune.

There is every reason, therefore, to believe that notwithstanding the unanimity of the State committee in support of Mr. Conkling, the people of New York State favor the nomination of Senator Blaine or Secretary Sherman. If this is true, and they do not make their wishes known and felt in the primaries and caucuses week after next, it will be their own fault if they are not fairly represented at Chicago.

CONGRESSIONAL CHAT.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF THE 46TH CONGRESS.

Metric System of Coinage—Abolishing Duty on Salt—Spofford v. Kellogg—Pacific R. R.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, February 12.—Senator Saunders introduced a bill to abolish all the duties on importation of salt.

Senator Garland introduced a bill to extend the time for the completion of the Texas and Pacific Railroad.

The Vice President laid before the Senate a communication from several members of the minority of the Louisiana Legislature in regard to the representation of that State in the United States Senate. Printed and referred.

Senator Davis, of West Virginia, said if the Senator from Georgia (Gordon) had been in his seat to-day, he (Davis) would have moved to take up the motion to reconsider vote appointing a special committee on the Inter-Oceanic Canal. The delay on this subject was not caused by him or his motion to reconsider. He was and had been ready to consider the matter at any time.

The Senate proceeded to consider the calendar.

The following bills were introduced and referred:

By Ransom, for the erection of a public building at Asheville, N. C.

By Garland, providing that the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, organized under the act of March 3d, 1871, shall have ten years additional time to complete the continuous line of rail way from Nashville, Tennessee, to the Pacific Ocean, provided nothing herein contained shall be construed as authorizing the grant of any additional lands or subsidy of any kind by the government.

By Bruce, endowing the Lowery Industrial Academy in Alabama, and authorizing acceptance of the donation of buildings and lands to its aid.

By Sanders, abolishing all the import duties on salt.

Senator McDonald resumed his remarks in favor of the bill for the ascertainment of the amount of lands located on the military warrants and for the payment of 5 per cent. of its value to the several states named. He argued that all the public lands within the said states which by the terms of their acts, the admission were exempted from state taxation for five years from the sale, should be considered as open to the sale and that 5 per cent. on these was due the states.

He held that the location on the military scrip was the sale within the meaning of the acts referred to since the lands were given as homes to those who served for the government in the place of an equivalent cash payment.

Senator Thurman, who said he was undecided as to whether the bill should pass or not, made some remarks on its provisions, saying, among other things, that some newspapers had ignorantly called it a bill to pay the money to the rebel states. In fact, it would be pecuniarily detrimental to all the Atlantic and Gulf states and would chiefly benefit the western and northwestern states. He had not thought the states entitled to 5 per cent. on any but cash sales but after reading the committee's report he was not sure that his mind was not changing. The discussion then closed for to-day and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, chairman of the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, reported the five back bills relative to the metric system of coinage. Printed and referred to the Committee of the Whole.

The five bills provide as follows: 1st, for the coinage of metric gold coin to be called stella, of the value of four dollars; 2d, for coinage of the gold metric dollar, two dollars and fractions of a dollar, and also for coinage of the metric gold double eagle, eagle and half-eagle—all to be of standard value; 3d, for mintage of ingots of metric gold, allay its deposit in the Treasury, and the issue of certificates therefor; 4th, for the making of ingots of fine gold and ingots of fine silver of the value of one dollar each for the exportation of manufacturers, etc; 5th, for the coinage of silver dollars and fraction thereof of full standard value upon the metric system.

Also a joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish States, for the use of Agricultural Colleges, one set of standard weights and measures. Passed.

The House resumed consideration of the bill relating to the removal of cases from the State to the Federal courts. After a short debate, the morning hour expired and the bill went over without action.

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole on the revision of rules.

Mr. White, of Pennsylvania, offered an amendment to the 21st Rule, to provide that no legislation shall be attached to the appropriation bills by the Appropriation Committee. This led to an animated political debate.

Mr. Conger, of Michigan, accused the Southern representatives of inconsistency in voting for the present rule (120,) which permits legislation in the appropriation bills, inasmuch as the Constitution of the late Southern Confederacy prohibited the incorporation of legislation in such bills. The success of the present Speaker in inducing his Southern friends to vote for that rule regardless of their previous views, and in opposition to the action of their best and wisest men, was the greatest triumph any Northern man ever gained in the way of leading an army of Southern brigadiers.

Randall—I do not want to lead a better army than that army of the 44th Congress (without regard to where they came from) in the interest of economy. [Applause on the Democratic side].

Goode, of Virginia, reminded Conger that we now lived under the Constitution of the United States, which allowed every house to fix rules for its own proceedings. He thought that Rule 120 was a wise and just regulation.

Springer, of Illinois, pointed out that while an eminent Republican (Garfield) was at the head of the appropriation committee, 150 sections of legislation had been passed upon the appropriation bill. He was in favor of legislation upon the appropriation bills. It had saved millions of dollars to the people, and if the House had held on to it, it would save millions more.

White, of Pennsylvania, then withdrew his amendment, and Speer, of Georgia, offered one to strike out the provision that allows legislation on the appropriation bills, if it be in the direction of retrenchment, to-wit: "that it shall be in order to strike out 'any sum of money' and insert 'less sum.'" He then spoke in favor of his amendment, saying that the failure of the appropriation bills meant anarchy and revolution, and that the House should adopt such rules as would prevent their failure to pass on account of political riders.

Hawley, of Connecticut, read some quotations to show that in twenty-five out of the thirty-eight States legislation on the appropriation bills was prohibited by State Constitutions.

Blount, of Georgia, thought the Government would never perish in the way his colleague (Speer) found. He opposed the amendment.

Mills, of Texas, and Whitthorne, of Tennessee, spoke in favor of the amendment.

McMahon, of Ohio, appealed to his party friends not to give up Rule 120. It would be giving up the very standard they had raised.

Warner, of Ohio, offered an amendment to Speer's amendment, which would make cause three of the rule read as follows: No appropriation shall be reported in any general appropriation bill, or be in order as an amendment thereto for any expenditure not previously authorized by law, unless in continuation of the appropriation for such public works, and the objects as are already in progress; nor shall any provision in any such bill or amendment thereto be in order to reduce the amounts of money provided for by law and covered by the bill, and to that extent only to change the law.

Warner's amendment was agreed to by 124 to 29 votes.

Pending the consideration of Speer's amendment, as amended, the House adjourned.

MILITARY SENSATIONS IN EUROPE.

What Might Lead to War Between Russia and England.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—A London special says: Dr. William H. Russell, the well known war correspondent of the English press, is preparing to defend himself against the attack of Sir Garnet Wolseley, who charges him with coloring his letters to the prejudice of the British army in south Africa. He has had an interview with the Duke of Cambridge, who has expressed the utmost confidence in his veracity, and he will now proceed to vindicate himself in the public press.

This is not the only military sensation. It has come to the knowledge of the war office, that the blue books published concerning Russia in Afghanistan and Russia at Merv, do not by any means contain the last word of the transaction. It is understood that Russia is implicated up to the period of Major Cavagnari's assassination, and that if the suppressed correspondence were published, it might necessitate a declaration of war against that power. It is further stated that the Czar may have disavowed the acts of his agents in Central Asia, and that the suppression is due to this possibility.

Dying on His Wife's Grave.

A German named George Beck, committed suicide on his wife's grave in a cemetery, on Long Island, N. Y., Monday, by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. A will was found in his pocket leaving $2,000 to various persons. Beck's wife was buried on the 29th of January. A letter was found on his person in which he claimed he was not insane, and saying that since his wife was dead, he had nothing of value for him to live for.

Three Democratic Candidates.

Springfield Republican, 9th.

When we get below Tilden, or rather above him, there are three leading candidates—Bayard, Thurman and Randall. Senator Bayard is a candidate of the first order, scholarly, punctilious of honor, national and personal, a thorough-going Jeffersonian Democrat in his principles of government, and sound on the financial question—not a broad man, perhaps, but a safe and honest one—not a politician or manager, but a devoted patriot of noble lineage. In many respects he resembles Edmunds, whom, however, he does not exual in intellectual power. Like him, he comes from a small State, but, if the vote of Pennsylvania can be secured for him in convention, as there is some hope of, or of New York, his chance for the nomination will be high. Tilden ought not to regard Bayard's nomination as derogatory to himself or a triumph for Kelly. Although Thurman was said to have been killed by the Ohio election, it begins to be remembered that the policy and candidate of his party in that campaign were adopted against his advice. He is unquestionably the ablest man on the Democratic side of the Senate, a man with broad popular sympathies and rugged sense. He throttled the twin snakes of the Pacific Railroad. He is unsound on the curiency question, but so are most of the people whose votes he wants, and he is not likely to approve of inflationist or speculative financiering, now that specie payment has been restored. It would seem as though he would fail by a long degree of the confidence of the people, but it is a singular fact that very astute Republicans dread him more as an opponent in the campaign than as a President of the country for four years. Between these two is Speaker Randall, the rencher, the hard master of an unruly House, conservative and cautious in his financial views, a wily politician, but in the last resort, as in the great electoral struggle, more patriotic than Democratic. He has made enemies by the vigor with which he has crushed jobs, but he will look big when the Democratic party are seeking a man with a lantern. He has two careers, the first a failure, the second a noble triumph of the better man over the baser, and the self-control thus exercised certainly proves him capable of "ruling his spirit" if not of taking cities.

An Incident of the Famine.

Phoenixville Messenger.

At the time of the Irish famine, in 1847, Elijah F. Pennypacker, of Schuylkill township, sent a barrel of flour as a contribution to the door of that county upon which was inscribed:

"A donation for the Irish sufferers, given freely and accompanied with a heartfelt desire and petition to the British Parliament to remove one of the real causes of distress amongst the laboring and perishing classes, by abolishing the existing aggressive and unchristian system of national defense by fortifications and armed soldiery and a navy; and directing that all vessels now belonging to the naval establishment of Great Britain shall henceforth be engaged in righteous and useful commerce, and that the trained warriors, disciplined enemies of God and man, consisting of about three thousand men, shall hereafter be employed in useful and productive industry; that instead of being a drain upon the resources and means of subsistence of laboring British subjects and a reproach upon the Christian name, they may contribute by the honest use of their faculties to the supply of their own wants and comforts, as well as the relief of perishing thousands.

ELITAH F. PENNYPACKER,
HANNAH H. PENNYPACKER.
CHESTER Co., Pa., 3 mo. 1st, 1847."

The bark upon which this barrel was shipped was dismasted and compelled to return to port. A brig, to which it was then entrusted, coming into collision with another vessel, was so damaged that she discharged her cargo, and the sailors, looking upon the barrel as a second Jonah, refused to take it again on board. The barrel, however, reached its destination.

THE VANDERBILTS.

CORNELIUS' EFFORTS TO GET CONTROL OF HIS "LITTLE PILT."

He Says William is Worth $100,000,000—Application to Remove W. H. as Trustee Denied.

NEW York, Feb. 10.—Cornelius J. Vanderbilt has applied to Judge Donohue to have his brother William H. removed as trustee from the trust imposed on him and Edwin D. Worcester, by the execution of a trust deed made by William H. Vanderbilt in settlement of the $1,000,000 suit and all other litigation between him and Cornelius. The latter's petition sets out that he and William are the sole surviving sons of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt; that the activities of business are essential to his health and comfort, and, having paid out the greater portion of what he has received in the settlement of old debts, he has not enough to properly carry on a business; that, by the trust-deed, he is only allowed the interest on the money invested, and that, the securities which represent it having now reached their highest value, and being over-rated on account of the connection of William H. with them, he maintains that they should be sold, and he asks that one-half of the $400,000 invested be paid him.

He states that his brother is worth over $100,000,000, and that his receiving the money asked for would work no injury to any one. The petition further states and sets forth fully the letter written by the petitioner to William H., which sets out the above facts, and also a reply to the letter denying the application, and on that ground he appeals to the court. The trust deed of which Edwin D. Worcester is trustee gives to Cornelius during life the income of the following property, namely: One thousand five hundred shares, at $100 each, of the New York Central stock; 1000 shares at $500 each of the capital stock of the New York & Harlem Railroad; $100,000 of 3 and 5 per cent. bonds of the Canada Southern Railway Company, due in 1908, and $88,000 of second mortgage 7 per cent. bonds of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad Company, due in 1903. There is also a clause stating that, on consent of William H. and Cornelius Vanderbilt and the trustees, the trust may terminate and the principal be paid to Cornelius. Judge Donohue denies the application, and gives a lengthy opinion, in which he fully reviews the facts as stated.

A Mrs. Langtry Costume.

New York Star.

The "Jersey" costume, named after the famous Mrs. Langtry, who is a native of the Island of Jersey (not New Jersey), seems to have solved a great many problems for English ladies, and been accepted almost universally as a most convenient and useful form of short dress. It consists of a long, woven basque, usually worn with a kilted skirt, mounted with a scarf laid in folds, but it is also worn in other forms, and makes a dress which does away entirely with the necessity for cutting, fitting, or making, the "Jersey" fiting perfectly through the woven elasticity which adapts itself to every figure and simply covers it like an elastic skin. The woolen Jerseys have been very popular, but they have very little beauty or elegance compared with the woven silk, which are beautiful and most charming in appearance upon a well rounded figure.

None have been seen here as yet, except those imported by and for private invidiuals. Finely woven Cardigan jackets have been sold as "Jerseys," but they do not differ from the ribbed knitted jackets of previous winters, except in the fineness of the rib and the gradual but steady improvement in the outlines. The genuine "Jersey" will doubtless make its appearance with the spring, though it is by no means certain of creating the furore here it did in England, where there is popularly a great desire to get rid of trouble in regard to clothes, where women generally have less time to spend upon them and figures that show to better advantage in so realistic a dress.

Why No Double Postal-Cards Have Been Issued.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—A communication was read to-day before the House Postoffice Committee from Postmaster-General Key in response to a resolution calling upon him for information in regard to the double postal-cards and return-letter envelopes authorized by the Forty-fifth Congress, and his reasons for not having adopted them. He adverts to the restrictions imposed by law on the payment of any more money for designs and says that all designs for such cards as possess any merit have been patented. Moreover, the contract under which the single postal-cards are furnished would, in the opinion of the Assistant Attorney-General, cover all postal-cards to be used by the Government until the expiration of the contract. This would compel the department to accept the terms of a single manufacturer. Further, as the present system of postal-cards has proved merely a private accommodation and has not increased the revenue, the department does not favorably regard the policy of opening the door to further encroachment upon the 3-cent postage rate. The Postmaster-Genera does not regard the double-letter envelopes as of the least practical utility.

The Democratic National Convention.

Washington Star.

There are several members of the National Democratic Committee in Congress, and a Star reporter to-day made some inquiries of them in regard to holding the Democratic Convention in Washington. Senator Ransom, of North Carolina, thinks Washington would be a "glorious place" to hold the convention. Senator Jonas, member of the committee from Louisiana, favors St. Louis, and is not inclined to regard Washington as a suitable place. Senator Call, of Florida, has no preference, but it is plain that he is not averse to Washington. Senator Farley, who will be a proxy for the member from California, thinks it would not do to hold the convention in Washington, as Congress will, no doubt, be in session at the same time. He is not committed to any locality, however. John G. Thompson, of Ohio, is for Cincinnati first and Washington is his second choice. Representative Forney, member of the committee from Alabama, says he favors Washington above all other places, and his second choice is Baltimore. After these places he is not particular. Mr. Ross, of New York, is also favorably disposed towards Washington, but his first choice is, perhaps, St. Louis. However, he appreciates all the advantages of Washington, and will quite likely vote to locate the convention here. Representative Whitaker, of Oregon, is also favorably inclined towards Washington.

Mr. Bliss, of New York, offered a resolution in the House to-day giving the use of the new National Museum in the Smithsonian grounds, Washington, to the National Democratic Convention.

LEAP-YEAR VALENTINES.

Stories of Cupid in Petticoats—A Leadville Romance—A Rat at a Ball.

George Rouak is never at home unless in a saddle. This is no remarkable thing perhaps when it is remembered that when Mr. Rouak was a boy he was a cow-boy—one of the wild-haired kind accustomed to swing the lasso as he cantered over the plains. So it followed that after he had one day luckily thrown his noose about the neck of Dame Fortune his habit of riding did not leave him. Mrs. A. E. Watson, a blooming young widow of 25 years, also loves the pastime and the side-saddle is to her a hammock swung crossways the two wings of the wind. About one month ago Mr. Rouak, hailing from the Arkansas Valley but temporarily in Leadville, Col., for the purpose of recreation, and Mrs. Watson, a resident of San Francisco, then, however, on a visit to Leadville—those horseback riders met by chance on the heights of Granite, near the city. What caused Mr. Rouak to fall his hat no one knows, but he did do such a thing and followed that salutation up with various polite remarks. Within an hour, as both confess, the bachelor and the widow were in love. They rode back to Leadville as the shadows of the mountains lengthened, and spent the next few days in making inquiries about each other. As both were given the highest praise by those who knew them, the acquaintance was renewed and rides to the heights were taken daily. One week ago, and just three weeks after the first meeting, the lovers started again for the heights, but this time a parson and bridal party accompanied them. The sun gilded the snow on the summits as the party approached the place of meeting and betrothal and things were just lovely. Alack-aday! As the bride's horse, leaping a rock, drew near, he slipped and fell, throwing the lady with great force to the ground. Her right arm snapped and she was hurt otherwise. Of course Mr. Rouak and the others were in a flutter, but with wonderful pluck the bride remounted her horse and as all sat in their saddles the ceremony was performed. During the return to Leadville Mrs. Rouak suffered excruciating pain and the groom himself was almost frozen. But romance is romance.

The German Vote.

The Philadelphia Press, Republican, says one of the "significant signs of the times worthy the attention of the Republican political leaders is the unanimous opposition of the Germans to the third-term candidacy of General Grant." The Press adds: "If there were nothing else to offer against the third-term candidacy of General Grant but the combined opposition of the Germans, it should be sufficient for shrewd leaders who consider expediency to call a halt upon it, for the Republican party cannot elect its Presidential candidate without the German vote. Large as it is, however, it is small compared with the vote of our native-born citizens who are opposed to the third-term project."

Grant in Mexico.

A correspondent writes to The World from the city of Mexico, January 21, that great preparations are making to receive General Grant there. A suit of apartments has been prepared for himself and his party in the splendid building of the Mineria, the finest piece of architectural work in Mexico. There will be a grand review of the garrison of the capital in his honor, a state banquet at the Palacio National and a grand state ball, as well as a brilliant fete champetre in the grounds of the magnificent castle of Chapultepec.

How They do at Leap Year Parties.

A young editor describes a leap-year party at Ovandale, Ohio, as follows: The ladies opened their own dainty and perfumed pocket-books and took the pin-money which they had been laying aside to purchase a lace-tie, a new spring bonnet or some orther knick-knack of fashion, and footed the bills like little men. And another nice feature was the fact that the gentemen were called for in elegant carriages by their fair escorts. After the gentlemen had made their toilets and pulled down their three-buttoned vests, they descended from their boudoirs to the parlors of their luxurious homes, and there, in rubbers to keep from catching cold, and chatting with their mammas about their last new suit, they awaited the coming of their lady escorts. It was found by the gentlemen to be a delightful experience. And then it was so nice to sit around in chairs, all in a row, next the wall during the evening, looking so sweet, while waiting for the young ladies to cail and say, "May I have the pleasure of the next waltz with you?"

Mahone and Radicalism.

Philadelphia Times.

The mission of the Readjusters of Virginia having been fulfilled by the election of General Mahone to the Senate, they will now disband and fall back into their original elements. The Republicans have formally retired from the partnership, and Mahone will be likely to resume his old partnership with the Democracy on favorable terms for himself. He is an admirable political forager and has demonstrated to the blue-blooded Democracy of the Old Dominion that he can cut loose from the Democratic base, find his own supplies and come back full handed. The Republicans of Virginia should arrange to roost their colored voters a little higher if they don't want future Mahone raids to be made upon them.

The Right Way to Kill a Horse.

Ouida in Whitehall Review.

If people will not spend time and money in curing maledies incurred in their own service they might at least relinquish the small gain to be obtained by the sale of an infirm horse and, as I say, give him the last sad mercy of a swift death. To shoot a horse is a cruel work—nine times out of ten the best shot fails of immediate effect; the much-vaunted bag of chloroform is a still more terrible torture. There is only one merciful way—that of the tube inserted in the vein behind the ear and blown into, when the horse drops instantly.

Rev. Mr. Cowley on Trial.

Rev. Edmond Cowley, late superintendent of the Shepherd's fold, was placed on trial Monday in Washington, in the court of general sessions, on one of the twenty-five indictments found against him by the grand jury for starving, ill-treating, and abusing children placed under his care in that institution. The prisoner was accompanied to the court by his wife.

Lager-Beer and Longevity.

READING, Pa., February 9.—John Michael Rebhoiz, a German, aged 101 years, died in this city yesterday. He was the father of twelve children and has a number of great-grandchildren living here. He drank lager-beer up to a short time before his death, and said that he never felt better in his life. When unable to talk during his last hours he whispered to one of the family at his bedside, "Beer." It was the last word he spoke.

PIRATES OF PENZANCE.

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN'S LATEST OPERATIC GEM.

A Highly Successful Production of Gilbert and Sullivan's New Opera at the Theatre.

Philadelphia Times.

A most brilliant audience greeted the first performance of the "Pirates of Penzance" at the Boaad Street Theatre Tuesday night. It was such an audience as we only look for at the Academy of Munsic upon Italian opera nights, and it crowded every portion of the house, even the gallery being filled with well-dressed women and men in evening suits. The buzz of conversation gave place to loud applause when Mr. Arthur Sullivan appeared in the orchestra and took his seat at the conductor's desk to direct the performance of his newest—and one is tempted to say, after this first hearing, his greatest—work. It was the extraordinary success of "Pinafore," of course, that gave rise to the eager anticipation with which "The Pirates" was hailed, and had so prepared the public mind for it that it did not have to make its way, as "Pinafore" did, but was accepted from the first, the audience entering into the spirit of the work from the moment the curtain rose.

There are some disadvantages in this state of preparedness, if it may be so called. The inevitable comparison is in some respects unfavorable to the newer work, which has thus been robbed of something of the surprising novelty that made us all captive when we first heard "Pinafore," and it may as well be said at the outset that "The Pirates" is not likely to attain anything like the same unbounded popularity. The music is not published, and it can not, therefore, be thrummed upon every piano; but even if the amateur pianists had the music before them they would make little of it, and the amateur singers may not hope to sing it with effect or to have it sing itself. For the music of "The Pirates" is of a vastly stronger, more thoughtful and more complex character, and occupies altogether a higher artistic plane. This is said with a full sense of the knowledge and skill displayed in "Pinafore," in which, however, both the motive and the expression are of a simple and obvious character, while the present work, more delicate in conception, is also much more elaborate in execution, though even more audacious than the other in its absurdities.

In some respects it suggests Mr. Gilbert's "Engaged," in that an utterly farcical theme is treated in a most serious dramatic way, and it is in this spirit that Mr. Sullivan has written the music. Taken any one of a dozen leading numbers—the strong dramatic duet between Frederick and Ruth; the betrothal duet; the apostrophe to poetry, one of the many wonderful surprises of the opera; the song to the evening breeze, with its exquisite orchestral accompaniment, or even the policemen's chorus, a singularly skillful and effective composition—and if it were sung with Italian words we should find it not simply worthy of grand opera, but possessed of a virile beauty and melony such as not many recent composers of grand opera have given us so much of in so little space. Indeed, so admirable is this work, and so much absorbed does one become in the music, that the audacious fun of the libretto causes a continual succession of abrupt shocks that must make it impossible for the opera ever to become flat, no matter how often heard.

Sometimes one's sensibilities revolt against these shocks, as when Mabel and Frederick close a tender and touching duet with a refrain of "fal-lal-lal," but it is not worth while to listen to Mr. Gilbert unless we are prepared to say "fal-lal-lal" to everything which commonly goes to furnish motive and action to the serious drama. "The Pirates," with all its intensely humorous incidents, which ever admit of a resort to most outrageous puns, we should call a satire rather than a burlesque. It is a satire upon the musical drama, a satire upon contemporary life, a satire, especially, upon the "sense of duty" which leads a man always to do what is most agreeable to him at the time. It is full of action, full of wit and full of original ideas, both in dramatic business and in musical effects, and the only regret we can feel about it is in the thought that such very clever work cannot be expected to take a permanent place in the operatic repertory.

Robinson's Narrow Escape.

New York Sun.

In fact, we are of the opinion that Lucius Robinson would have been Governor now if Edward Cooper had never been born. Governor Robinson went so far as to adopt Mr. Cooper's untenable and abominable heresy that in this State a man on trial for a misdemeanor might lawfully be deprived of counsel. Had the Governor himself acted on this theory we should have printed an article, already written, fiercely opposing his renomination. But inasmuch as in fact he gave a courteous and full hearing to counsel in the same matter wherein the bellicose, stupid, tyrannical Mayor had ordered their arrest, and in consideration of his many high and rare qualities as an executive chief magistrate, we stayed our hand, and the burning denunciations prepared for him never saw the light

John Denies It.

Philadelphia Record.

Secretary Sherman having denied the charge that he used the influence of his Department to secure the selection of Sherman delegates in North Carolina, the New York Times has carefully investigated the matter, and reaches the following conclusions:

First, That Mr W. J. Kilpatrick, a confidential agent of the Secretary of the Treasury, with personal letters of introduction from him, has recently been travelling through North Carolina with no other purpose than to give encouragement to Mr. Sherman's canvass for the Presidency, and that he told Colonel T. B. Keogh, the Secretary of the National Republican Committee and then Chairman of the North Carolina Republican Committee, that, if he would throw his influence in aid of the Secretary, he could have a good office even though he performed no service for his pay.

Second. That at an interview of his own making Secretary Sherman, though being assured that the sentiment of North Carolina Republicans was solidly for Grant, asked Colonel Keogh to try and divide the delegation in his interest, intimating at the same time that Colonel Keogh's friend, Mr. Powers, would be provided for at the Government expense.

A Steadfast Man.

Boston Transcript (Rep.)

Senator Bayard has won the triumph of a man steadfast in a purposed course of conduct determined by high considerations of duty and public honor. There ought to be a party for men like him, and there doubtless will be in the fulness of time.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 13, 1880.

MR. JOHN W. MACKEY, of Virginia City, Nevada, has subscribed ten thousand dollars to the Herald fund for the relief of the Irish sufferers.

MAJOR RENO has asked permission of the President to resign from the service. The President holds this request under consideration, and the orders of the War Department in Reno's case are delayed for the decision.

IF the President still has any of that famous backbone on hand he had better throw it in between Secretary Sherman and the civil service reform order. The wily Secretary is sapping the very foundation of reform on which this administration rests.

THE New York Herald, in commenting upon the alleged sale of the Republic of Venezuela to a wealthy and enterprising French gentleman named Pereire, congratulates American claimants who have had so much difficulty in getting their money from the so-called Government of that country that they now find a solvent French banker their creditor rather than an impecunious Republic.

THE Washington correspondent of the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle and Constitutionalist says that it is openly charged in Washington "that Speaker Randall was counted in by the Philadelphia ring in order to control Southern men, as a Democratic officer, in the interest of a high tariff." There is abundant circumstantial evidence to confirm the good understanding between Speaker Randall and the ring in Philadelphia, but it does not speak well for Southern Congressmen that they should yield their judgments for such slight favors as the Speaker may be enabled to dole out to them. The South should be better represented.

IF the leading Republican partisan journals could nominate the Democratic candidate for President, undoubtedly Mr. Samuel J. Tilden would be the recipient of that distinguished honor; and if the Democrats fail to nominate him these journals will be greatly disappointed. It is an anomaly in politics that Mr. Samuel J. Randall and a few other professed Democrats in Pennsylvania should be in accord with the leading Republican journals in desiring Mr. Tilden's nomination.

THERE is a manifest intention on the part of General Sherman to make an ass of himself. Not contented with denying to newspaper reporters any official information of Boynton's charges, he finds it necessary to throw his feelings into the form of an insulting and undignified card, taunting his adversary with limiting his attacks to newspaper battles. General Sherman appears to mistake the duties of his position in endeavoring to unite the somewhat diverse functions of a General of the army and a Government mule.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer has been making a thorough canvass of the States of Ohio and Indiana with a view to ascertain the views of the Democratic masses as to Presidential candidates. In Ohio it finds that Senator Thurman is the favorite, while in Indiana Mr. Hendricks is far in the lead. Mr. Tilden is the second choice in both States. A marked difference is shown in the two States. In Ohio Thurman is only slightly ahead of Tilden for first choice, and is the preference of rather less than one-third of the entire number interviewed. In Indiana, on the other hand, over two-thirds of the number who expressed an opinion declared for Hendricks, the remainder being for Tilden, with here and there a Thurman man.

THE Republican Legislature of Ohio has redistricted the State and thereby restored the old gerrymander. By the new distribution the Republicans calculate to have fourteen of the twenty members of Congress. Under the Democratic distribution, at which they so loudly complained two years ago, the Democrats secured eleven members of Congress and the Republicans nine. This was a fair division, the State having gone Democratic in the previous election by a handsome plurality. If the Republicans had arranged to reverse these figures there could be no good ground for complaint, but when they take more than two-thirds of the entire delegation they commit an outrage upon the people of Ohio and representative government generally. Their shameful manipulation of the districts is apt to be remembered next fall to their disadvantage.

Can Breathe Now.

Wilmington Star.

The Board of Directors of the Western North Carolina Railroad met at Raleigh on Tuesday. We learn from a special dated Raleigh, February 11th, that the Directors refused to recommend the calling of an extra session of the Legislature. The Directors have shown more wisdom in this course than many who advocate the sale. We breathe freer. The Governor will hardly shoulder the responsibility and call it anyhow. By this action the taxpayers will be saved some $20,000 or more.

Death to Publishers.

The leading newspapers of the country are at a loss to know what to do to be saved. The cost of white paper having increased fifty per cent. since the "boom" commenced, and a further advance being threatened by the paper combination, the prospect is anything but encouraging. There are just two things to do to save the publisher from loss. He must reduce the size of his paper or increase the subscription price. To do either is a decidedly unpleasant job for the publisher, but self-preservation will demand one or the other if the paper Shylock combination continue to extort the consumer's last cent and take his wood-pile besides. At present the Journal publisher will do neither, but it will be understood that the present price must be paid in good money and with promptness. This is no time for any newspaper to carry dead or unnecessary weight. The burdens that must be borne are sufficient.

A Victim of Hydrophobia.

An Important Personal Item.

Charles S. Prentice, of Toledo, O., went to Paris and thence to England to be treated for Bright's disease, and after the best physicians of both countries had done what they could for him, gave up in despair and returned to America to die. Here he received further treatment from other skillful physicians without benefit, and while "listlessly lingering in pain and anguish," he says, heard of the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, took it, and was completely cured in a few weeks. He gives circumstantial details of his painful experience and astonishing cure, in a long letter to H. H. Warner & Co., which will be forwarded on application.

A Down-town Merchant.

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F. BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anæmia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs WEEKS & POTTER: Gnalemen—I cannot refrain from ad ing my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —— of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely heal-d. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.
MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.
NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

MEDICINAL AND TOILET,

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington street, Boston, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 35 cents per cake; by mail, 50 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Superior Court.

Court met again yesterday at ten o'clock,

The case of the State vs. C. B. Jonnican, who is charged with false pretense, which was begun Wednesday, was again taken up and consumed the entire day.

Pending the examination of witnesses in the above case, the court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock, when the same case will be resumed.

Supreme Court.

Court opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. All the justices were present.

N C Railroad Company et als, vs. Board of Commissioners of Alamance county, from Alamance, pending yesterday, was resumed and concluded.

H Mulholland vs. R W York, from Chatham: was then called and argued by John Manning for the plaintiff, and George V Strong for the defendant.

Court adjourned pending the argument in the last named case until 10 o'clock this (Friday) morning.

He Wanted Oil.

A little negro urchin entered the postoffice yesterday, tugging along a tremendous oil can—a tin barrel, in fact—and walking up to the stamp clerk's window, tiptoed to see if any one was there. He caught a glimpse of Charlie McDonald, and, laying down ten old fashioned coppers, yelled out: "Mister, mammy sent me arter ten cents wuf ob ile, an dar's de munny!" Charlie, thinking he would have a little fun, told him that the fosset to his barrel was out of order and he couldn't draw any right away, but that if he would go into the room in the end of the building, (money order clerk's office) and enquire for Mr. Dan. Young, he could probaply get it right away. The boy said he "wuz in er hurry" and he and the ten coppers and the tin barrel bolted off to see Mr. Young. He found him, but Mr. Y. had just sold all he had, but it was understood that the proprietors of the big granite store at the head of Fayetteville street (the Capitol) had just received a large and fresh supply of the article; he might get it there. The boy scratched his wooly head and moved off in the direction of the "State House." He must have failed there too, for when last seen he was tramping in the direction of the Insane Asylum, still in quest of "file." Whether he ever "struck oil" or not, we were unable to find out.

The Irish Relief Meeting Last Night

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, there were not so many in attendance at the meeting held at Metropolitan Hall last night as expected. A very good crowd was present, however, and some of our most substantial citizens were among the number.

Mayor Manly, as chairman, opened the meeting by stating its object, and announced that it had been decided by the gentlemen present, who had accepted invitations to address the meeting, not to make any speeches, but to organize the assembly into a business meeting.

The following gentlemen occupied seats on the stage: Mayor Manly, Governor Jarvis, Gen. Cox, Judge Merrimon, Col. T. C. Fuller, Major Bagley, Judge Fowle, F. H. Busbee Rev. Dr. Atkinson, R. H. Battle, Esq., and Major R. C. Badger.

Mr. Badger, acting as Secretary, read communications from Dr. Eugene Grissom, Postmaster Holden and Jas. E. Boyd, wherein they severally enclosed contributuins and regretted their inability to be prssent at the meeting.

Colonel Fuller then offered a set of resolutions, which provided that the pastors of the different churches of the city be requested to have contributions taken up in their various churches next Sunday, for the relief of the starving Irish; that the Mayor and two others, be appointed, to take charge of the sums so raised, and any other monies collected by committees, if any appointed, and forward the same to the New York Herald.

In speaking to these resolutions the Colonel eloquently alluded to the handsome donation of $100,000 by the editor of that paper, and said it was the grandest charity contribution the world ever saw, &c.

Notwithstanding the fact that the speakers engaged for the occasion had decided not do address the meeting, they were all called out and made a few brief and appropriate remarks.

General Cox offered an amendment to the original resolutions so as to allow the country people an opportunity to contribute to the same fund; amendment accepted. Mr. Badger also offered an amendment. He said the American people should bring their sympathies to bear and openly express their indignation at the manner in which Ireland was treated by her tyrannical ruler, England.

Messrs. Doyle and McGowan then addressed the meeting in a few very appropriate and well-timed remarks.

The Mayor then announced that he could not just then, appoint his committees, but would announce them through the papers. The meeting then adjourned.

Mayor Manly has appointed the following gentlemen to act on the committees as provided in the resolution adopted:

Central Committee—Mayor Manly, T C Fuller and Alex Creech.

First Ward—P A Wiley, Geo W Wynne, John T Pullen.

Second Ward—W E Anderson, W H Bagley, John Armstrong.

Third Ward—J C Blake, R H Battle, Jr, A W Frapps.

Fourth Ward—J B Neathry, James Doyle, T W Blake.

Fifth Ward—Oct Coke, Pat McGowan, John W Brown.

Raleigh Township—Geo H Snow, W R Cox, John Gatling.

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the North Carolina Agricultural Society.

The Executive Committee of the North Carolina Agricultural Society held a meeting at the Yarboro House last night for the important purpose of organizing for the next State Fair.

The following gentlemen were present:

Messrs Thos M Holt, president; A Creech, General R F Hoke, Dr Eugene Grissom, Dr Jas M McKee, N S Harp, Colonel Jno D Whitford, Major W H Bagley, Joseph E Pogue, Richard H Battle, Jr, John C Blake, Eugene Harrell, Putnski Cooper, Dr G W Blacknall, J R Grisby, James Norwood, P A Wiley, Hon John Manning, A P C Bryan, Captain E R Stamps, Colonel A P Andrews, Captain W K Davis, C B Fairchild and C B Denson, vice-presidents.

The treasurer presented a financial report of the last Fair, which was accepted.

On motion it was resolved to hold the 20th annual Fair during the week beginning Oct. 18th.

The subject of completing the organization being in order, Capt C B Dunson was re-elected secretary.

On motion Gaston Stafford was appointed keeper of the Grounds.

The following gentlemen were appointed a committee on the premium list:

Captain W K Davis, Dr J A Sexton, Dr G W Blacknall, James Norwood, Dr Jas McKee.

A number of new members have been added to the Committee, and every effort will be made to render the Twentieth Annual Fair worthy the Society and the State.

Prof. Whitaker, of Raleigh.

A Marion (Ala.) paper has the following to say of Mr. L. F. Whitaker, a native of this city, and youngest brother of Mr. W. Whitaker:

"At the Seminary on last Friday evening, drew together a very large and select audience, who confidently expected an unusually fine musical treat. And it is useless for us to state that their expectations, and ours, were realized to the fullest extent, for the entertainment rivaled anything of the kind we have ever attended. To Prof. L. F. Whitaker, the efficient musical director, was due the happy and pleasing selection of pieces for the evening, and also some of the most pleasant music, both vocal and also on the piano, flute and cornet. Emphatically, he can "blow his own horn" better than we, though he is a modest gentleman. * * * * * The pieces, some of them the most difficult, were played with the greatest ease and composure, and in a faultless manner. "I Puritani," the "Southern Grand March," composed by Prof. Whitaker. "Miserere," "Ernani" and "Carnival of Venice," were rendered in an especially acceptable manner. The Blue Bird Polka, composed by Prof. W. and performed by himself, Misses Burton and Whitaker, and Master W. Whitaker met with such a prolonged applause that it was repeated, much to every one's gratification."

Telephone at the Fire Engine Rooms.

It seems rather peculiar that only one of the city fire companies have telephonic communication at their halls. Yet this is true. The Chemical Company is the only one that has a telephone. Now if anything or anybody should positively require these instruments, it seems to us that the engine houses do. They should have them if the city has to furnish them. Many thousand dollars would doubtless be saved by the expenditure of about $72 for telephones.

What a Pity

that the otherwise beautiful girl should have had such bad teeth. And all because she did not use SOZODONT. It costs so little to buy it considering the good it does, and its benefits stretch out into her future life. Poor girl!

The reason why adulterated bakin powders make bread and biscuits very indigestible, is because they harden the gluten of the wheat and render it less soluble. The purity and perfect combination of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder makes all articles easy of digestion.

THE NEW FRYER.

This useful invention meets a long-felt need for a more convenient method of removing Oysters, Potatoes and other fried food, with greater quickness, and all at once, from the boiling fat in which they have been cooked, and allowing the fat to drain from them while they remain over the fire; thereby getting rid more certainly of the superfluous grease, the objection so often made of the unhealthiness of food cooked in the ordinary frying-pan is done away with.

By detaching the supporter, you have for omelettes and other things for which a strainer is not required, a deeper and better quality of frying-pan than has heretofore been made.
